AN AUTOMATTIC PRODUCT

Make it with Spacefast.

Spacefast gives the AI you already use a head start, so its first version is closer to finished and live in seconds. Ask your agent to put your work on Spacefast, and a private link comes back right in the chat.

AT A GLANCE

Bring your own AI.
Keep working in Claude, ChatGPT, Cursor, or the agent you already know, with everything it has learned about you, your work, and your brand.

Start free.
Personal is $0 with no card and includes 20 Spaces. Go is $5/month and Pro is $15/month.

Private until you share it.
You choose who sees each Space: a client, your team, or anyone you share a link with.

Commercial use on every plan.
Client work and business projects are allowed on every plan, including free Personal.

CONVERSION PATH

my.spacefast.com/start

Where to send traffic. Send your audience to my.spacefast.com/start. It offers three routes: let your agent set it up with a copied prompt, set it up yourself, or connect a Git repository. Drop files, the command line, and the API are listed too.

Who converts. The person with something to publish sets up their own account. Spacefast fits people who already build with an AI agent.

What to know. No account is needed to publish. An unclaimed Space serves for 33 hours and 20 minutes after creation or its latest file change, capped at 30 days. Claiming it with a free account keeps it online.

What sets Spacefast apart

A head start for your AI.
Point any agent at Spacefast, whether Claude, ChatGPT, Cursor, or another, and it gets its own instructions for building well, so it gets more right the first time.

Use the AI you already pay for.
Spacefast works with the AI subscription people already have. They pay Spacefast to publish and run what they build.

Built around the team.
On Pro, everything people make with AI lives in one shared place to find, comment on, and pick up, whichever AI each person uses.

Go live in seconds, together.
Ask your agent to put your work online and a private link comes back in the chat. Your team comments right on the page, and your agent turns those comments into fixes.

AUDIENCE

Who Spacefast is for.

AI builders: people who build with an AI agent every day and make things other people need to see, whether that is a prospect, a customer, or a teammate.

Freelancers and agencies
Add campaign sites, client dashboards, interactive reports, and tools to the services you already provide. Keep each client's work separate, and hand it over when the client is ready.

Early-stage startups
Founders, developers, and early hires who cover several jobs, already build with AI, and have no web team behind them. Anything their AI builds becomes a shareable link in seconds.

Teams and companies
Marketing, sales, customer teams, and developers who want pages and tools without waiting on the website queue. Enterprise adds activity logs, security scans before anything goes live, IP allow and deny lists, and subteams.

Best fit: people who already have an AI agent they like. Someone who does not build with an AI agent yet is not the audience for Spacefast today.

What comes with every Space

Everything you need to launch.
Hosting, your own domain, and a database come with Spacefast, along with managed HTTPS and forms with spam checks.

Good starting points.
Choose a recipe for a campaign site, client dashboard, or interactive report, or just tell your AI what you want to make.

Same link, every update.
Ask the agent to publish again and the same address updates. Each change saves a version, and any retained version can be restored.

You set the permissions.
Choose what your agent can access and do, with approval checks for sensitive actions.

Your work stays yours.
Download files from any version in your history and export all your app's data at any time. You own all of your data.

Built by Automattic.
Automattic's cloud serves more than 500 million page views a day, and Spacefast runs on that infrastructure.

Private beta at launch: built-in app sign-in, transactional email, and shared team knowledge, including Team Skills and your team's playbooks, past decisions, and brand context. These are not part of the launch for everyone yet.

Pick the plan that fits.

	Personal	Go	Pro	Enterprise
Price	$0, no card	$5/month	$15/month	Talk to us
Included usage each month	$1	$5	$15	Contract
Members	1	1	Free up to 5, then $15/month each	Contract
Spaces and custom domains	20	100	500	Custom
Support	Community	Email	Priority email	Dedicated, with SLA

Every plan allows commercial use. Prices are monthly in US dollars, before tax. On paid plans, extra usage bills at the end of the month, and Go and Pro can set a spending cap. When Personal uses its $1, new builds and edge functions pause while deployed Spaces keep serving. Reviewers, commenters, agents, and app users never count as members.

WRITTEN COMPARISONS AND ROUNDUPS

Bring your own AI, or switch to theirs

Many AI builders keep their building know-how inside their own AI and charge credits on every change. Line up documented points: which AI tools connect, what each plan includes and costs, how sharing and versions work, and what moves elsewhere on export.

REVIEWS AND EXPLAINERS

Try it firsthand on free Personal

Personal needs no card, so you can publish and claim a real Space, share it, turn on comments, collect one, and roll back a version yourself. Explain where the AI's work ends and Spacefast's begins.

VIDEO AND STREAMING

The moment the link comes back

Record an agent in Claude returning a live Spacefast link in the chat, then show a comment come in and the agent turn it into a fix. drop.fast shows the no-account route.

Naming and brand usage

Write Spacefast as one word with a capital S, and call each published project a Space. Use the official logos from the Spacefast brand guidelines and never use the Star symbol on its own. Spacefast bills separately from the AI people already pay for, to publish and run their work.
